These tools are essential for maintaining a healthy garden.

In addition to shovels and rakes, gardeners also use pruning shears. Pruning shears are like scissors for plants. They are used to trim and shape plants, removing dead or overgrown branches. # Global Warming

Read the passage below and answer the following questions.

Global warming is a significant environmental issue that affects our planet. It refers to the gradual increase in Earth's average temperature due to human activities. One of the main causes of global warming is the excessive emission of greenhouse gases, such as carbon dioxide, into the atmosphere. These gases trap heat from the sun, leading to a rise in temperature. As a result, our climate patterns are changing, causing various impacts on the environment and living organisms.

The effects of global warming are far-reaching. One noticeable consequence is the melting of polar ice caps and glaciers. This leads to rising sea levels, which pose a threat to coastal areas and low-lying islands. Additionally, global warming disrupts ecosystems, affecting plants and animals. Some species may struggle to adapt to the changing conditions, leading to a loss of biodiversity. Extreme weather events, like hurricanes and heatwaves, are also becoming more frequent and intense due to global warming.

Addressing global warming requires collective action. We can all contribute by reducing our carbon footprint. This can be done by conserving energy, using renewable sources of energy, and practicing sustainable habits like recycling and reducing waste. By working together, we can mitigate the effects of global warming and create a healthier and more sustainable future for our planet.

Dinosaurs

Read the passage below and answer the following questions.

Dinosaurs were a group of reptiles that lived millions of years ago. They were the dominant creatures on Earth for over 160 million years. Dinosaurs came in various shapes and sizes, ranging from small, bird-like dinosaurs to enormous, long-necked ones. They lived on land, in the air, and even in water.

Dinosaurs were incredibly diverse in terms of their physical characteristics. Some dinosaurs, like the Tyrannosaurus rex, were carnivorous and had sharp teeth and powerful jaws to hunt and devour their prey. Others, like the Triceratops, were herbivorous and had large, bony frills and horns for defense. Some dinosaurs, such as the Pteranodon, were flying reptiles with wingspans that rivaled those of modern-day birds. The study of dinosaurs, known as paleontology, helps scientists understand how these creatures lived, moved, and interacted with their environment.

The extinction of dinosaurs is still a topic of scientific debate. The most widely accepted theory is that a catastrophic event, such as an asteroid impact, caused dramatic changes in the Earth's climate, leading to the extinction of dinosaurs and many other species. However, some dinosaurs survived and evolved into modern-day birds. Paleontologists continue to discover new dinosaur species and uncover more information about their behavior, diet, and habitats through fossil evidence and scientific research.
